Part #: ALS-CS5

OVERVIEW

The McMillan ALIAS CS5 is designed for stealth and concealment in urban settings. With the buttstock and suppressor detached, the CS5 is only 23.5" in overall length. It stores neatly into backpacks and other inconspicuous carriers, yet it delivers the stopping authority of a .308 projectile. The bolt-action CS5 is a precision tactical rifle offering sub-MOA accuracy with both subsonic or full power .308 ammunition.
